

APA Changes in the New Seventh Edition

By Jim LaBate

Under the new guidelines, if your source has three or more authors, you may now use the last name of the first author only, plus the abbreviation “et al.” every time you mention that particular source (unless that shortened form would be ambiguous).

Place of Publication. For full citations at the end of the paper, you no